

Trusted since 1998

B.E.A.S.T.® Elicitation: Evasive Verbal Responses (EVRs)

They'll try to dodge. Deflect. Distract.

You asked a simple yes-or-no question, but they responded either with a question or said there is no proof they were involved. But, they didn't simply say "yes" or "no" so, is their response an "answer"?

An EVR is a subtle clue of deception, and your ability to spot that shift doesn't just shape the case outcome—it could also protect your life.

Master the 16 Evasive Verbal Responses.

Whether you're on patrol or in the interview room, identifying EVRs is critical.

REGISTER TODAY AT LAW-TECH.NET

Only $19.95, includes workbook

EMAIL: SALES@LAW-TECH.NET

Webinar Details:

Date: November 20, 2025

Time: 6PM-7PM (ET)

Tuition: Only $19.95

Why Attend:

- Learn the 16 EVRs that can hurt you or your case

- Employ the antidote to EVRs

- Identify Denials vs. Objections

- Use the Ultimate Power Question and more!