

SPC St. Petersburg
College
CENTER FOR PUBLIC SAFETY INNOVATION

Join us for this FREE two-hour webinar presented by
St. Petersburg College and Multijurisdictional Counterdrug Task Force Training (MCTFT) Program

B.E.A.S.T.®: ELICITATION FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

This two-hour webinar introduces proven techniques that equip new & seasoned law enforcement officers and investigators with practical tools to identify truth and deception in real-world encounters. Participants will learn how Forensic Statement Analysis (not handwriting analysis), and Forensic Behavioral Analysis work together to enhance tactical interviewing, streamline investigations, and improve officer safety.

Through non-confrontational elicitation techniques, attendees will gain insight into recognizing deceptive behaviors, navigating the liar's playbook, and protecting themselves from harmful individuals and situations. This training prepares attendees for the deception they face daily and provides immediately applicable skills to obtain reliable information and voluntary, court-accepted confessions, while reducing investigative time.

One Class. Twice the Tools. Twice the Results.

Class size is limited, so register early!

Tuesday
April 21, 2026
2pm - 4pm EST

Tuition Free through MCTFT!

For additional training opportunities
visit: www.mctft.org

Gary Aschenbach Jr., PI, has been a Special Agent with the United States Department of War since 2005. He has conducted in excess of 700 personnel interviews that are focused on national security, fraud, burglary, sex offenses, drugs, and financial crimes, to name a few. He earned a BS Degree from the University of MD and in 2007 he was selected to attend the prestigious National Center for Credibility Assessment in Fort Jackson, SC, where he completed an intensive training program in Forensic Psychophysiology and became a federal polygraph examiner. He has conducted 1,300+ polygraph examinations while employing techniques to detect deception. He holds the Senior Polygraph Examiner classification and is considered an expert in detecting deception. He sought additional training from John E. Reid and Associates, Stan Walters, Wendell Rudacille, Dale Carnegie and others. In 1999, Gary joined Law-Tech Consultants, LLC and serves as the CEO, where he provides both training and consulting to clients throughout the U.S. in person and via webinars. He was published in Professional Investigator magazine and wrote the article, "The basics of Interviewing or Interrogating." He is a certified instructor by the Maryland Police and Correctional Training Commission.

Register here: https://spcollege.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_2dx4WCuqRe-2XHe6jU6uCg

Location: Webinar link to be provided prior to the event.

Contact: Jodi Williams: williams.jodi@spcollege.edu; (727) 344-8021